AIRDRIE FAMILY HONORED AS 1951 MASTER FARM FAMILY

A man who has farmed the land where he was born for a quarter century, Victor Watson of Airdrie, and his family today were named one of Alberta's Master Farm Families for 1951.

This progressive farmer and rancher now operates his thriving business on a 5,300-acre farm and ranch layout about five miles west of Airdrie.

Mr. Watson is one of the province's leading registered seed growers specializing in Thatcher wheat, Victory and Lorain oats, Ollie barley and forages. He entered the registered seed business in 1935 and just three years later captured the championship for Victory oats at the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto. His seed has won several awards at fairs in Alberta and throughout western Canada.

Seed grown by Watson is sold throughout Alberta. When asked what induced him to enter the seed growing business, Mr. Watson replied, "A neighbor of mine, Howard Wright, was growing and sacking wheat for 60 cents in 1935 and in those days that looked like a good business deal to me." He operates a large seed cleaning plant at the farm site.

An important experiment, that of feeding livestock from refuge screenings, is being conducted by Victor Watson and his 18-year-old son Allan. During the past year Allan has been feeding a few grade cattle. It is estimated that when the cattle are marketed this fall that they will have doubled their weight.

Mr. Watson has just completed construction of a self-feeder with a capacity of 10 carloads of screenings. According to Mr. Watson the refuge screenings are excellent foods and the self-feeder system cuts labor costs. A shelter to accommodate 250 cattle will be built adjacent to the self-feeder and the feeder cattle will be fenced in

This will prevent the spread of weeds from manure which would occur if the cattle were allowed to roam the entire ranch.

"I believe I will be able to feed the proposed herd for about $3,000 and put about $15,000 worth of meat on them when marketed," said the master farmer from Airdrie.

Mr. Watson always has had some livestock but he really entered the large-scale cattle field when he bought the Willow Springs Ranch with its accredited herd of purebred Herefords from Ingwell Sundall in the spring of 1948. The ranch, which adjoined the original Watson farm before it became part of it, was formerly owned by the famous cattlemen, Frank Collicutt. Mr. Collicutt was among the first five Albertans who this year were named to the Provincial Agriculture Hall of Fame.

In 1947 Victor Watson captured the Grand Championship with one of his Suffolk Rams at the Royal Winter Fair. The following year one of his ewes won the grand championship at the same fair in the Suffolk class. In 1949 his Hereford bull "Advance A.B. Dominio II" was reserve grand champion at the Royal Winter Fair. He has won several ribbons with his hogs which have been exhibited throughout the prairies.

The Willow Springs Ranch proudly displays five purebred Palomino ponies. The stallion is El Pedro. In addition there are several grade horses which are used for cattle herding and various ranch and farm duties.

Mr. Watson was born at the site he is presently farming. At that time it was the homestead of his father, Adam Watson, who took up a half-section homestead lease in 1903 when he came to Alberta from Harwood, Ont. Victor lived on the farm until it was rented in 1917. He returned to the farm, 10 years later after completing his education at Airdrie and Calgary.

Mr. Watson never has had any desire to pursue any other occupation as his sole livelihood. He believes that farming and ranching is a good business endeavor for anyone willing to take a chance. "A herd of calves can either double your investment or lose it for you," he said.

"There is plenty of good land still unsettled in Alberta and farming still looks like a good thing in the province," Watson is a staunch advocate of mixed farming because it gives one several opportunities for profit. This year Mr. Watson will depend on cattle sales because his crops suffered heavy hail damage. "If I had just been a grain grower without cattle I would have been in a bad spot this year," he said.

The Watsons operate an economic well balanced farm and ranch. They realize that they are in a big business and operate it as such. The farm operations are always well planned and Mrs. Watson keeps a very detailed set of books. Mr. Watson recently hired a new farm manager. He gives full credit for a great deal of his business success to herdsman Bob Coates and shepherd Jack Thompson. An average of 10 men are employed at the farm and ranch.

The three-year-old Watson home is a large well planned, nicely furnished home. It's the type that makes most city dwellers envious and ask that common question, "Why do I stay in the city?" The 12-room house is fully modern and features a propane unit for heating purposes. Rural electrification is used for cooking, lighting, and operating the washer, and other household appliances. Mrs. Watson enjoys the benefits of a power water supply thermostatically controlled. A septic tank-sewer system is another feature of the house that Mr. Watson built himself. The attractive house is further enhanced by an excellent lawn, flower gardens and trees. Incidentally Mr. Watson has planted 1,000 trees around a large res-

Miss Angela Schmaltz Honored At Shower

A shower was held on Sunday, Nov. 11 in the Memorial hall in honor of Miss Angela Schmaltz whose wedding takes place on Tuesday, Nov. 13.

During the evening court whist was played with honors going to Mrs. T. Murray and Mrs. Stinn.

The guest of honor was presented with a lovely set of dishes. A very dainty lunch was served by the hostesses Miss Francis Plante and Mrs. L. L. Schmaltz.

ervoir located on the ranch portion of his layout. His main water supply at the ranch comes from three natural springs.

Mr. Watson's implement sheds resemble those of an implement dealer. He has three cats, three tractors, four tillers, one cable weeder, one Noble Blade, three combines, two swathers, one thresher two 3-ton trucks and two light delivery trucks. There is a very well equipped machine shop. Another feature is the freezer storage building which rivals a well-stocked city butcher shop.

Victor Watson takes an active part in farm and community affairs which is indicated by the following list of positions he holds:

President of the Alberta Hereford Breeders; president of the Airdrie Telephone Company; president of the West Airdrie Rural Electrification Company; director of the Alberta Sheep Breeders' Association; director of the Alberta Palomino Association; past president of the Alberta Branch of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association; director of the Agricultural Branch of the Calgary Chamber of Commerce; Associate Director of the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede; Director of the Canadian Hereford Breeders' Association.

Mr. Watson married the former Miss Gertrude Bishop of Calgary in 1932. Mrs. Watson, a former school teacher, has taken an active part in the farming operations throughout the years in addition to her housework. She definitely has added a good share of the drive to the Watson farming team. Mrs. Watson has a very pleasing personality and makes you feel right at home when you are her guest. She is the president of the Airdrie Home and School Association.

Allan Watson, one of the district's outstanding athletes, has finished his high school education and will enter the Oids School of Agriculture this fall. His entries captured first and second places at a local Junior Calf show last year. Allan is a member of the Airdrie Junior Calf Club, a curling club member, a captain of the high school baseball team, a member of the Airdrie senior baseball team, and a member of the athletic club.

The family redhead, 11-year-old Ruth, is in grade seven at Airdrie. She is a member of the athletic club and her favorite recreation is riding. Often she can be seen up on her favorite pinto.

The member of the Watson family commanding the most attention these days is flaxen-haired 22-month-old Jean.

The Watson family are members of the Airdrie United Church.

This progressive farm family, of Willow Springs Ranch, has contributed greatly to local agriculture and it is expected that they will continue to aid the progress of Alberta's basic industry.

Young Girls In Danger

Once again the evil of lust has struck in the city of Edmonton and a 14-year-old girl is the victim. It would seem peculiar to some people that some protection should not be available for such young persons on the city streets, but the fact is that most of these young persons are pretty much to blame themselves. A look at the reports of all the similar incidents in Edmonton over the last 10 years shows that in every case the incidents have taken place in the late hours of the night.

Some young girls working late in restaurants and other places are compelled to go home late, but in such cases the employer should be compelled to be responsible for their getting to shelter at their home. But in most cases the trouble is with the lax habits of young girls staying out to late hours at the theatre or dance hall.

If a young girl allows a stranger whom she has just met casually at a dance to take her home, what does she expect from a man she knows nothing about? All of these cases, or most of them, could not happen if young girls were not on the street beyond the time decency permits.

Every young girl who walks alone on the street at a late hour is deliberating the possibility of attack. The cure is the old adage: "Early to bed and early to rise, makes one healthy, wealthy and wise."

It Is Only Community Wealth

Attention has been drawn to the "presumption" that Canadians are the wealthiest people in the world by a writer in Eastern Canada commenting on the speech of F. G. Winspear, ex-president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, this week.

It is true that on a per capita basis Canadians are better off than most people, but such per capita figures are often very misleading. The average Canadian may be better off today than he was ten years ago, but few of them would admit they see much more of the alleged wealth of the Canadian people. It is true that today the aged and out-worn citizens are better provided for than they used to be, but when the high cost of a beef stake is considered and the fact that everything from clothes, bus rides, theatre tickets, groceries, rents and fuel have sky-rocketed beyond any advantage old age pensions and other social welfare benefits give, the fact remains that nobody has any given quantity of this alleged wealth belonging to the Canadian people. The average Canadian may be a partner in his country's astounding wealth of resources, but his path is still one of puzzling how he can pay his bills. Taxes are increased to make up massed wealth.

What a Difference!

The news about Prime Minister Churchill's action in reducing his own salary and those of his cabinet ministers throws the difference between the British government and the Alberta government into striking contrast. The British nation is facing very hard times with fresh demands on the people's loyalty and fresh experiences of austerity for them, and the Churchill government has set the example by sharing some of the load itself.

In contrast, almost the first thing the Alberta Social Credit government did, when it took office, was to increase the salaries of cabinet ministers and members' indemnities. This was done not in a season of prosperity but when the big depression was at its peak. Wild dreams of easy wealth through issuing new money in basic dividends were being dreamed then by the Social Credit party, and doubtless they wished to demonstrate possibility of paying dividends by paying them to themselves first of anybody. The citizens of Alberta, however, are still waiting for their dividends!

Everyday Living

What you and I do today, in the ordinary course of business and social life, will determine our responsibility in our community life. We are living in a sick world. We may be part of the disease, or we may be part of the remedy, which? Jesus is constantly examining my heart and asking me, "What are you doing that the non-christian does not do?"

During these days it is well that I should discover how christian I really am. What am I doing that the non-christian does not do? Am I able to perform the ordinary tasks of life with an extraordinary spirit? Am I able to turn the other cheek?

Coarse Grains Marketing Act

By T. W. RUE

It didn't take Alberta long to throw out their legislation dealing with the compulsory wheat board marketing of oats and barley. Apparently, though this legislation was passed by three prairie province legislatures and the Ottawa House it was never very popular by the governments except in Saskatchewan.

T. W. RUE

Manitoba Province is ready to hold a vote on the subject to give farmers there the opportunity of deciding which way they want their coarse grain marketing to be done. Meanwhile, Alberta has thrown a monkey-wrench in the works because if the system is not going to be carried on in one province, how can it be made compulsory in the other two, even if Manitoba farmers vote for a continuance of the plan.

This situation was made possible because in 1948 Hon. C. D. Howe gave his personal guarantee that whenever one province should decide they no longer wanted compulsory marketing of coarse grains, he (Howe) would throw the whole deal out the window.

That being the case, what use is the vote going to be in Manitoba, seeing our own province has set aside this legislation? Well, I think it will assist Hon. D. L. Campbell, Premier of Manitoba, and his government by knowing exactly how the farmer himself feels about the matter. Here in Alberta we have not asked the farmers what they think—just gone ahead and set the legislation aside. No doubt the holding of a vote here in Alberta would be the democratic thing to do.

I received the following letter from a youthful aspirant for a job who wrote to me from Brudenheim:

Dear Sir: I have read your ad in my recent paper that you want applicants for jobs in your firm, and I would like to receive more information on the following: a, hours of work; b, wages; c, and holidays. Yours truly, etc.

This young fellow did not say what kind of work he'd like to do. He obviously has no ambition for any work, or desire to make a success, nor did he express a liking for newspaper work. Even if our education system can't train our young people to desire a vocation for the joy of doing a job, and doing it well, why don't they teach them to write a letter of application that might land them a job—even if they're only interested in high wages, low hours of work, and long annual vacations?

Some time ago I got into a discussion about fishing in the garage of Kerr & McKen in Sanguid. I learned there some of the most surprising things in my career as a newspaperman or as a fisherman. It seems that Pat Kerr, on a recent fishing expedition, hooked a monstrous bull trout that pulled him right into the water. Mr. Battagin, of Meyerthorpe, on the same trip, hooked an even bigger trout.

I am amazed how two big, husky men can be completely baffled by a 25 lb. trout. But who among us would go fishing, if we couldn't tell about it afterwards?

In Neenook last month I met assessor V. C. Hart of the Municipal District of Athabasca. He gave me a treasured bit of humor which I'll pass along to you:

A resident owned a goat. His next door neighbor was the tax assessor who did not like goats so he taxed his neighbor's animal $4.00.

In reply to objections, the assessor claimed: "That is strictly in accordance with the law." "I demand proof," retorted the irate goat owner.

The assessor thereupon read the following: "All property abutting and abounding on the public street shall be taxed at the rate of $2.00 per front foot."

Goat owners of M.D. Athabasca—beware!

Some people have taken me to task for writing to Princess Elizabeth. I haven't yet had a reply to my letter. If Her Royal Highness asks President Truman's advice he's likely to suggest offering me a "good punch on the nose" as he himself has threatened newspaper writers. Truman is quoted by one writer as saying he is "saving up four or five good punches on the nose" for persons who have written "lies" about his family which he'll deliver "when I am out of this job."

I wonder if he is overmatching himself?

and put an end to strife? Can I walk the second mile without becoming bitter? Am I patient enough to be silent in the face of severe trial, knowing that some day the truth will set me free? Am I praying daily, that my enemies may be forgiven? Am I willing to suffer so that some deep-seated wrong may be corrected, the conscience of mankind awakened to divine duty? Am I willing to be like Jesus as I perform my life's duties? Jesus is ceaselessly examining my heart and asking, "What are you doing that the non-christian does not do? When you and I, neighbor, are willing to honestly face our responsibility in making a better world, then we become part of the remedy for our sick world."

What more are you doing than others?

Matthew 5:47. Read today, Psalm 138:24-24.

WHILE THE thoughts and minds of Canadians have been rivetted lately on the Royal Tour of Canada, the grim business of war goes on in Korea. It has been reported that Chinese soldiers, fearful of hunger and cold of an approaching winter, are surrendering to United Nations forces where they find food, clothing and warm barracks behind prisoner-of-war barbed wire fences.

Voice of the People

"VOX POPULI, VOX DEI"

LETTER TO ELIZABETH

Good for you, Bill Pue!
You dared to speak the truth;
We're proud of you, Bill Pue,
And wish there were more like you.

So here's to you, Bill Pue,
And may you long be with us!
You're feeling's with the common man—
The man who MAKES the Nation.

So God bless you, Bill Pue,
And carry on, won't you!
Edmonton. M.C.F.

Dear Sir — Re your pathetic letter to Princess Elizabeth, if being a reader of your paper qualifies me as being represented by you, then I hasten to correct the situation. Like every man, you are entitled to your own opinions. But when the editor of a newspaper voices those opinions in such poor taste, disguised as friendly advice—words fail me. If Princess Elizabeth has a battery of secretaries, I sincerely hope they do not allow your letter to be read by her. How hurt she would be.

Judging by the manner in which the royal visitors were received all across Canada, I do not think the Princess has to worry much about selling herself. Her qualities of sincerity, naturalness and grace have endeared her to millions. True, she is a little shy perhaps, but we love her all the more for it. She needs none of the Hollywood tactics such as signing autographs (which in fact is absolutely not allowed) to win and keep the esteem of the Canadian people. Of course, she is bound to make mistakes. Who wouldn't? Is she not human?

One does not have to read very much to realize how very little of their own way the Princess and the Duke actually had on this tour. No doubt the royal visitors would have loved to spend much more time with the common people, instead of being monopolized by bumbling, greedy officialdom.

One thing I do agree with you on—your chances of being Prime Minister.

(MRS.) M. MILLER.

THE ONLY ANTIDOTE?

Dear Sir—At Eniwetok several atomic bombs were exploded to test the destructive efficiency of this latest deadly weapon fashioned by man to destroy his fellow men. These latest bombs are vastly more destructive than those used against Hiroshima and Nagasaki in 1945, each of which had the destructive power of 20,000 tons of TNT. How much more destructive are the 1951 variety, is a secret known to very few. Communist Russia also knows how to make and explode atomic bombs, and so the race is on now for the biggest and most destructive atomic bombs that can be made.

The atomic bomb supplies man with a weapon by which he can destroy himself and his world. To prevent him from doing so, he needs to be given another weapon—one of constructive, spiritual power capable of counter-balancing the suicidal power of destruction now in his possession. That power is already at hand. It is the Gospel of Christ which, we are assured (Rom. 1:16), is the very "power of God unto Salvation to everyone that believeth." Man has thus two decisive weapons in his hands—one by which he can destroy himself; the other, by which he can save himself.

But the power of the Gospel of Christ, like that of the atomic bomb, must also be demonstrated. Paul assures us again and again that this Gospel must be preached "not in word only, but also in power" (I Thess. 1:5); "not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power" (I Cor. 2:4).

For all power has this peculiarity, that to be made effective it must be demonstrated, or shown. An atomic bomb remains harmless till it is exploded; then its power is shown. So with the Gospel of Christ: it is not enough just to talk about it, to philosophize about it, even to praise it. It must be made effective. Its power must be shown in the changed lives of those who believe and accept it. It must be exploded in the hearts of a lot of people who will thus come to know and serve the Lord Jesus Christ.

The first fifty years of this twentieth century have left mankind frightened and insecure, terrified at the prospect of a third World War and the use of atomic bombs and other even more dreadful weapons of destruction. Fascism and Nazism have been defeated, but the new tyranny of Communism now controls a large segment of the earth and threatens the rest, even the free life of Americans.

The time has come now when mankind must choose one or the other of the two weapons in its hands—that of destruction or of salvation. Nothing less than the power of God can save—not the works of men. In the Gospel of Christ we have the very power of God.

Four Alberta Families Cited As Master Farmers

The third group of Master Family Award winners were announced this week by Hon. D. A. Ure, minister of agriculture.

Winners are:

John G. Porozni Family, Willingdon; J. W. Hosford Family, South Edmonton; Floyd Gillyson Family, La Glace; Victor Watson Family, Airdrie.

Each master farm family receives an award of $1,000, an engraved plaque and a name plate for the farm entrance.

Objectives of the master farm family program are to provide a practical recognition of farm and family progress and approved agricultural practices. The advantages of the farming vocation and the wholesomeness and dignity of rural life are emphasized and farm youth are provided with a goal by the program.

Mr. Ure reminded the people of Alberta that one of the main purposes of the program is to find and honor those families who have made outstanding progress in farming, homemaking and citizenship.

"The slogans of the Master Farm Family are Good Farming, Right Living and Clear Thinking," he said. "I hope the program will continue to encourage and maintain the high ideals of good farming practices, good family relationships and good citizenship."

With the continuance of the program from year to year, the high standards required for nomination are becoming more fully appreciated by the people of the province. A total of 36 families were nominated for the 1951 Master Farm Family Award, a total slightly less than that nominated last year.

Candidates for the master farm family awards must be Canadian citizens who have operated farms in Alberta as owners or lessees for 20 consecutive years, (military service is included). At least three neighbors must nominate a candidate and the candidate must personally accept the nomination.

The winners are selected on a district and regional basis and confirmed finally by a provincial committee. The regions correspond roughly to the soil zones of Alberta. Both technical and practical agriculturists and home economists are represented on all committees.

Under the system of selection, provision is made for an evaluation under 87 factors related to the farm, cultural practices, family, and community life. It will be seen therefore that a very high standard of performance is required and that a family can measure up only by a creditable record in all or most of the points of this very comprehensive score card.

The main divisions are the home and farmstead, operation and organization of the farm, family and community life and management and business methods. Possible maximum scores have been calculated carefully for each division according to its relative importance and the record of each candidate is assessed in relation to the possible scores.

The Minister of Agriculture congratulates the master farm families for their fine records of achievement and also commends the other candidates who were honored by nomination. He expresses sincere appreciation for the work done by the various selection committees.

Poster Competition For Alberta Students

The Hon. Ivan Casey, Minister of Education, has given his endorsement to the Health Education program of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association, which this year again includes a special poster competition for pupils of Indian and Métis schools in Alberta.

Students are invited to submit a poster of their own design and composition, illustrating any phase of good health habits. Individual prizes for each grade will be awarded and over $100 in cash, sports equipment, or other school extras will be presented to the winners.

In addition to about $340 federal taxes on a $2000 car, in some provinces Canadians pay provincial and municipal taxes.

God has declared and promised there will be no more war, pain or death and the earth shall yield abundantly. Learn his glorious plan and rejoice in confident hope.

Prospect Of Oil Boom Excites B.C., But Find Almost Belongs To Alberta

By RAYMOND ARGYLE

(Raymond Argyle, The Sun's managing editor, is spending the week in Vancouver. Here he tells of observations of his visit).

VANCOUVER, Nov. 8. — People in B.C. are easily excited, and they are excited today with the prospect of an oil boom that actually belongs more to Alberta than to Canada's Pacific province.

A smidgen of oil was found in B.C.'s Peace River country last week, in a spot closer to Edmonton than Vancouver.

And since then, Vancouver's three daily newspapers have told in big page one headlines how an "oil boom" has hit B.C.

Actually, the find may indeed uncover another Redwater, or another Leduc.

But with the way B.C. has been eyeing Alberta enviously this past half-decade, British Columbians are eagerly jumping on the oil band-wagon with the initial dis-

At the same time, Vancouver received another prestige blow when Edmonton won official honors as "Canada's fastest growing city."

Vancouverites thought all along that their city was pacing the rest of Canada in population growth.

But when the Bureau of Statis-

Reeve Is Appointed Civil Defence Head

Provincial Civil Defence Headquarters has announced appointment of George Boyack, as civil defence controller for the Municipal district of Serviceberry, No. 43.

Nearly 100 other civil defence controllers have been appointed and their names announced by the Provincial Government.

tics released its preliminary census figures recently, Edmonton ranked as the No. 1 city in population growth, with Calgary a close second.

And the "coup de grace" was administered when Ottawa told west coasters the population of Vancouver was only 345,000, not 400,000, as was thought here!

But, even at that, Vancouver still is a lot larger than Edmonton.

Vancouver is enjoying truly salubrious weather today. A balmy Pacific breeze is blowing in over the city and although the sky is cloudy, it's a far cry from Edmonton's desperate tussle with winter.

Albertans who might be thinking of moving to British Columbia should prepare themselves for a few financial shocks.

First, there is the British Columbia Hospital Insurance System. That's the government-sponsored compulsory hospital scheme, which seems to cost a family man more than he can afford, but never seems to free him from the burden of hospital bills.

The BCHIS is the No. 1 blot on the record of B.C.'s Conservative-Liberal "Coalition" government.

The cruelties and injustices of the system, whether real or imagined, have turned thousands of voters against the Coalition.

And with Tories and Grits talking of breaking up the Coalition, it is quite possible B.C. may find itself with a CCF government after the next provincial election.

People in Edmonton often complain of Alberta's backward liquor system, and wish they had the privileges imbibers enjoy in Vancouver.

But the folks here think their system, in turn, is backward.

At least Vancouver has mixed drinking. And along with that, a variety of "clubs," to which one can gain membership for an annual fee as low as $2.

These "clubs" serve, in some cases, both meals and liquor. They operate under a provincial government charter.

Speaking of liquor, beer is presently nonexistent here.

No, the city hasn't adopted prohibition, nor has everyone gone on the wagon.

It's just that workers in four Lower Mainland breweries have been on strike for the past two weeks, and hotels and government liquor stores are entirely sold out of beer.

A taxi driver told us an interesting story.

It was about a fellow in the Air Force who was recently transferred to Edmonton. But, apparently, he didn't like the "Gateway to the North," and volunteered to go to Germany just to get out of Edmonton. He's in Germany now. The only condition on which he could get a transfer was to go to Europe.

Yellowstone National Park and the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes in the shadow of Alaska's terrible-tempered Mount Katmai, are among the world's most dramatic examples of the earth boiling under men's feet.

RENE B. PERRAULT, Montreal, who was elected president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce today in Quebec City. A prominent eastern industrialist, Mr. Perrault succeeds Francis G. Winspear of Edmonton.

Tony Hemmerling
Coaching Seattle

SEATTLE.—Tony Hemmerling was back coaching Seattle Iron-men in their Pacific Coast Hockey League game with Calgary last night.

But for a while there was some question.

Hemmerling became enraged at the officiating and at Tacoma's coach, Muzz Patrick, in the game at Tacoma Saturday.

Big Tony crossed the ice and hung a shiner on Patrick's eye. Hemmerling was going to quit as Seattle Pilot before Seattle Owner Frank Dotten talked him out of it.

As for Dotten, he said he's getting caught in the wallop. Patrick said Dotten sent him a bill for a new suit. Seems Patrick ripped one of the sleeves out of his coat when he swung at Dotten's man Hemmerling.

CORONER'S JURY WARNS AGAINST LEAVING SMALL CHILDREN ALONE

Small children should not be left alone without proper provision made for their protection and safety. This was the warning contained in the verdict Friday of a coroner's jury investigating the death of Paulette Dupuis, 10-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adelaide Dupuis, 12910 103 St.

The child died recently in the Dupuis home from carbon monoxide poisoning from smoke caused by a small fire.

The jury heard the mother and father tell how they had left their three small children, the eldest only four, to go for some week-end supplies to a north Ed-monton store. On their return they found the cottage filled with smoke and the three children overcome; two of them sprawled on the floor.

The parents were able to re-trieve the four-year-old, and the two-year-old, but not the baby.

They washed the baby's body and wrapped it in a white sheet and placed it in a home-made coffin. They told of keeping the child's body overnight, and then asking a priest the next day about burial arrangements.

Other witnesses at the inquest were Dr. W. B. Leach, who gave the cause of death and Const. W. Maloney of the city police, who investigated.

Members of the jury were Philip Jean, E. W. Armstrong, mon-ton store. On their return they found the cottage filled with smoke and the three children overcome; two of them sprawled

The Backbone of Crop Improvement

The Crop Improvement Associations of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are making a major contribution to the welfare of agriculture in Western Canada.

What Are They? Provincial Crop Improvement Associations are voluntary organizations. In each province they are sponsored and directed by representatives of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, Canada and Provincial Departments of Agriculture, Universities, Grain Companies, and others. These agencies work together to assist the grower of Registered and Certified seed to market his product. Their aim is to provide a beneficial service to seed grower and purchaser alike—all farmers.

Main Purpose. The major purpose of these Associations is to facilitate the wider use of Registered and Certified seed of farm crops. This is accomplished by: (1) Establishing fair and reasonable seed prices. (2) Maintaining the highest possible standards in the production of seed. (3) Enlisting the support of country elevator agents as salesmen of Registered and Certified seed. (4) Creating a wider farmer-demand for good seed.

Ordering Seed. Any farmer can place an order for Registered or Certified seed with his local Elevator Agent. The Agent forwards the order to his Head Office, or to the Secretary of the Provincial Association, who directs it to a seed grower with stocks for sale. The grower ships the seed directly to the farmer at his country point. The procedure is both simple and satisfactory.

At Your Service. All Line Elevator Agents of the Companies listed above are authorized distributors of Registered and Certified seed. They are at your service. Again this year Line Elevator Agents are urged to promote the wider use of Registered and Certified seed among their farmer-cus-tomers. After all, no factor is more important in successful grain crop production than is the use of "good seed."

The Lighter Side

Probably Worth It

A fellow who lived in an isolated region went to the city for the first time and returned wearing a ring containing a huge stone. The jewelry dazzled the village belles and excited the envy of the other men, one of whom finally asked if it was a real diamond.

"Wa'al, if it aint," replied the wearer, "I've shore been skunt out of four bits!"

Short Summary

An automobile accident resulted in the death of the driver and the injury of two passengers. The coroner summoned several witnesses, and among them a farmer living near the scene of the accident. There was much testimony about the speed of the car and the sad state of repair of the road. Finally the coroner said to the old farmer: "What would you say caused this accident?"

"Well, if I was writing that young man's epitaph," the witness drawled, "I'd say he died trying to get 75 miles an hour out of a 15-mile road."

Dual Capacity

The chief constable of a small English town was also a veterinary surgeon. One night the telephone bell rang. The chief constable's wife answered it.

"Is Mr. Blank there?" said an agitated voice.

"Dou you want my husband in his capacity of veterinary surgeon or as chief constable?" inquired the woman rather pompously.

"Both, madam," came the reply.

"We can't get our bulldog to open his mouth, and—there's a burglar in it!"

Useful

An enthusiastic church worker called at an English cottage where the occupants were slack in the matter of church attendance.

To her delight, she was asked if she could supply the wife with a certain church magazine. As she did not have one with her she trudged a considerable distance to get a copy, finally arriving back breathlessly at the cottage with the magazine.

"Oh, thank you so much!" gushed the woman. "You see, Jock is doing a bit of poaching tonight, and he wants to know when the moon rises."

Letter to Louisa

Dear Louisa:

My boy friend and I have been going steady for two years. During these times I have been happy and satisfied with my choice.

Recently he has tried to be too personal. I told him no but he keeps on trying.

I don't want anything to happen that we will regret later on. What shall I do? I love him very much but will break off our friendship if this continues. Would I be doing the right thing?

I am a teenager. Please send me your much needed advice.

BEWILDERED.

Answer:

If a boy truly loves a girl, he will try to protect her and not try to persuade her to permit intimacies that bring grief and loss of respect and reputation to her.

No matter how much you love this boy, keep your self respect by behaving yourself. The amazing part of it will be that he will also have more respect for you and real love if you do not cheapen yourself.

I think you show that you are a fine person in that, while you have become attached to this boy and love him, you have the will power to give him up rather than do wrong. It will be hard for you to give him up but, believe me, you will be much happier in the end by doing so, if he does not change his ways.

LOUISA.

Utah, named for the Ute Tribe of Indians, was originally called Deseret, a name used in the Book

AS UNITED NATIONS troops in Korea continue their fall offensive against the Communists, Allied commanders are seen here busy checking information on enemy positions at their front line headquarters. Checking over maps are, left to right, Gen. James Van Fleet, UN Commander; Lt. Col. A. J. B. Bailey, Canadian 25th Brigade Artillery Commander; Maj.-Gen. John W. O'Daniels, U.S. Army, and Brig. J. M. Rockingham, Commander of the 25th Brigade.

FORCE 'CONFORMITY THROUGH FEAR' BY SUPPRESSING FREE SPEECH

Paul G. Hoffman, former E.C.A. administrator and now president of the Ford Foundation, hits a lick for free speech, warning that the nation's fight against Communism is being weakened by the use of methods which tend to make criticism "socially dangerous" and sometimes force "conformity through fear."

Mr. Hoffman says that because "some of our people—often good people"—are ready to pillory anyone who presents an unpopular view or supports an unpopular cause, there are "too many of our fellow citizens" afraid to speak out. He asserts that in too many cases, decisions "often in high places" have been influenced by fear.

Elaborating his theme, Mr. Hoffman says that school teachers, government clerks and officials and "even business men can be frightened out of their rights" under the first amendment as effectively as if it was repealed. He says that if we want to maintain a free society, we must insist that "within the law of libel and slander" the unlimited right to criticize must be maintained and that this right is without meaning "unless it extends to the thoughts with which we disagree."

The Leiskes Entertain The Taylors

LEVEL LAND—Mr. and Mrs. Sam Leiske, John, and their sister, Mrs. Norman Taylor, went to Calgary Saturday night, to meet Mrs. Taylor's husband. Mr. Taylor came by train from Chicago for a short visit, and to drive the car home with his family. Mrs. Taylor and the children had been visiting for about two months with her mother, Mrs. Caroline Leiske, and part time with the Leiskes of this district.

Mr. Taylor is administrator of the Hinsdale Sanatorium and Hospital in Hinsdale, Illinois. Hinsdale is a suburb of Chicago. Norman's position keeps him busy, for they have begun construction of a new 200-bed hospital, contracted at $3,700,000, plus a nurses' residence contracted at a cost of $400,000. The old hospital has been carrying on work since 1904, with a capacity of 125 beds. The construction of the two buildings is planned to be completed within 20 months. A few of the folks of this district have been graduate nurses from this same school.

The oldest of the U.S. mints was established at Philadelphia in 1792.
